ADMINISTRATIVE HISTORY

As baseball became increasingly popular in the United States in the late nineteenth century, the sport became a favorite pastime of students at Mount Saint Mary’s University. The Mount was playing organized baseball by the early 1880s, and by 1883 the college had its own baseball association. The Mount baseball club was first known as the Mount Nine. This baseball club was not funded by the school, and the players had to pay for their own uniforms and schedule their own games. For instance, Albert V. Barrett of the 1910 Baseball Club was not only the coach of the team, but he was also the team’s centerfielder. This example was another way the early club teams worked independently to play the game that they loved. Their status changed in 1911, when the club became a team sport, and the college provided the team with a coach. The first coach was Professor Michael J. Thompson, whose only role on the team was that of coach. As baseball grew more popular, so did its players. In 1921, the legendary Babe Ruth, escorted by Monsignor Bradley, visited the Mount and put on a hitting display for the Mount and its students. The Mount also saw its share of great players and coaches such as Arthur “Reds” Malloy, who played and later came back to coach at his alma mater. Mount baseball became a great tradition and was well respected throughout the area. This tradition was created and continued by many great coaches such as Eddie Hooper, Arthur Malloy, Jim Phelan, Coach Sullivan, Thomas Ryan, and Scott Thomson. Its enthusiastic and dedicated coaches and players helped baseball blossom at the Mount and grow into the successful program that it is today.

PROVENANCE

Six action photographs documenting Babe Ruth’s visit in 1921 were donated to Mount St. Mary’s Archives by Catherine Kozak in 2001. Frank Lindinsky donated a photograph of the 1901 baseball team in 2001, and Daniel Dilley also gave a photograph of the 1905 baseball team to the archives that year. Bernie Jacobs donated the photograph of the c.1948 baseball team, which had been given to him by Joe Karpinski. In 1981 Phil McGlade forwarded to the Archives several copies of the original Babe Ruth action photographs taken by Hubert Crehan in 1921, when he was a prep student at Mount St. Mary’s. Rev. Msgr. Patrick Hannon donated the official scorebook of the 1930 indoor baseball league upon the death of Rev. Roger L. McCann, who served as head of the league. The 2001 programs were transferred from the Office of Communications. The provenance of the rest of the collection is unknown.

PROCESSING NOTE

Processing procedures consisted of discarding unnecessary duplicates, binders, and routine transmittals. Records in folders were arranged, unless otherwise noted, in forward chronological order, with undated records appearing at the end of the folder. Items too large to be contained in the standard boxes are located in Box 4: Oversize Materials.
SCOPE AND CONTENT

The baseball records in this collection comprise one (1) foot ranging in date from 1895 to 2001. These records include individual photographs of players, coaches, and managers; team photographs; scorebooks; schedules; programs; tickets; histories; and a series of photographs and articles recording the 1921 visit of Babe Ruth. The materials in this collection demonstrate the changes baseball has experienced over the years at Mount St. Mary’s University. The bulk of the records covers the early 1900s until the 1920s and forms the backbone of the collection. The photographs are arranged in chronological order. There are many gaps in the records and in the information that has been collected for each team. Many individuals are not identified, and the identifications that have been made do not indicate the source of the information. Many prep school photographs lack all identification.

The collection is arranged into the following series:

Series I: Schedules
Series II: Programs and Memorabilia
Series III: Scorebooks
Series IV: Histories
Series V: Babe Ruth
Series VI: Photographs

SERIES DESCRIPTIONS

Series I: Schedules, 1915-1937, 1986, 1989 (1 folder)
This series consists of the schedules of upcoming games for the Mount Baseball team, which also list where the games were played and against whom. A few of the schedules also record the names of players, scores of the games, and brief backgrounds on the team. The schedules date from 1915 to 1937 but contain several gaps. This series also contains schedules from 1986 and 1989.

Series II: Program Memorabilia, 1921, 1979-1987 (4 folders)
This series contains the pre-season programs for the Mount baseball team. These programs list the players and provide brief background material for them, and contain as well schedules and brief backgrounds of the teams. Finally, two of the programs contain boosters and group advertisements that are placed at the end.

The 1921 booklet describes the 1921 junior and ex-junior baseball teams and their seasons, and includes statistics for each game played and the names and photographs of the football and basketball squads.
The series also contains a 1919 season’s pass issued to Joseph M. Shorb, a 1922 game ticket, the 2001 Mount Baseball Media Guide, and a Mount Baseball dugout drawing, no date.

Series III: Scorebooks, 1919-1930 (0.3 ft.)
This series consists of scorebooks for several seasons of prep and junior baseball from the years 1919 to 1930. The 1919/1920 scorebook records the contests between the juniors and the seniors. The series also contains a 1925 scorebook for the Flying Fishes and a 1930 indoor baseball league scorebook.

Series IV: Histories, 1981, 1985, 1993-1994 (0.03 ft.)
This series contains two works that provide historical background information on baseball at Mount St. Mary’s. One Hundred Seasons: A Century of Baseball and softball at Mount Saint Mary’s College was compiled by the class of 1993 and contains a general overview of baseball and softball at the Mount throughout the last century. This series also contains two brief histories of Mount baseball which were handed out at banquets, and a short fragment recounting the history of a team known as “The Flying Fish” by one of its former members.

Series V: Babe Ruth, 1921, 1981, n.d. (1 folder)
This series contains an article and photographs recording the visit of Babe Ruth to Mount Saint Mary’s College in 1921. Babe Ruth was welcomed by Monsignor Bradley, and they were photographed together. This series also contains an article from The Mountaineer describing the visit, which provides insight into Ruth’s reputation and personality. The photographs were taken by students and include several action shots. The photographs are located under Series VI: Photographs.

Series VI: Photographs, 1895-2001 (0.66 feet)
This series contains group photographs of Mount Saint Mary’s baseball teams; individual photographs of players, coaches, and managers; and several action shots of players competing during both league and intramural games. Some of the photographs are identified, but do not indicate the source of the information. This series also contains photographs of the Mount Saint Mary’s Prep School teams, but they are largely unidentified. The photographs are arranged in chronological order, and there are many gaps, particularly between the years 1940 and 2014. An attempt was made to identify as many of the photographs as possible in preparation for a digitization project. College catalogs and yearbooks were consulted, as were The Mountaineer and The Mountain Echo.
SPORTS INFORMATION ARCHIVES

The Office of Sports Information located in the Knott Athletic Recreation Convocation Complex (ARCC) also contains substantial baseball records. These records are split between two different collections: the General Sports Archive and the Baseball Sports Archive.

The General Sports Archive contains the records of the Mount Saint Mary’s Baseball team between the years of 1882-1972. The General Sports Archive is organized by chronological folders dedicated to each year with folders containing material from a variety of Mount sports teams. The collection contains articles from local newspapers featuring Mount Baseball between the years of 1882 to 1955. Often the newspaper or source of the article is unknown. The collection also contains articles about the Mount Baseball team that were featured in Mount Saint Mary’s University publications including the Catalogue of Mount St. Mary’s College, The Mountaineer, and The Echo, as well as, the Mount Athletics Department’s publication “Weekly Sports Roundup.” Other materials contained in this collection include schedules for the years 1919, 1920-1921, 1922, 1924, 1925, 1929, 1929-1930, 1930, 1931, 1932, 1933, 1934, 1937, 1959, 1972; two photographs of Babe Ruth located in Folder 1919-1920; and a list of monogram winners 1958-1959.

The Mount Baseball Archives contains the records of Mount Saint Mary’s Baseball team between the years of 1966 and 2009. These records are located in chronological folders by year. Each folder generally contains the schedule, roster, compiled game statistics, programs, articles and press releases, and photographs regarding the Mount Saint Mary’s Baseball team for the given year. These records are not complete, and there are many gaps in the records that have been collected.

From 2006 to the present, the Office of Sports Information has been placing the records of the Mount Saint Mary’s Baseball team online on the Mount Athletics website. These records currently include statistics from 2006 and the roster, schedule, statistics, and news articles and press releases between the years of 2007 and 2014. These records can be found on www.mountathletics.com under “Baseball” and then the subcategory “Archives.”
